McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

THE undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the public to the above unequalled safeguard of property—proof against the devouring element of fire, as well as the most skillful burglar. To MERCHANTS, JEWELLERS, and BANK DIRECTORS we would only say examine them and the proofs we can give will be convinced of their superiority over all other manufacture.

Our business is done in a plain, straightforward way, without recording to humbug or large talk.

Being one of the many testimonials we are daily receiving from all parts of the country, and which speaks for itself. James Pond, & Hitchcock's fire store was situated directly over the Pearl street House, and was totally consumed in that great fire of August 23d.

NEW YORK, Aug 23, 1853.

Messrs Wm. McFarland & Co.

Gents—It affords us pleasure to inform you that the Fire and Burglar Proof Safe we purchased of you preserved our books and papers, at the disastrous fire of the Pearl-st House, last evening, in the most perfect manner. Although it was exposed throughout the fire with burning Rosin and Spirit Oils, and directly under a broken gas pipe, in the most intense heat, it remained true to its name and its contents when taken out, were not even scorched, and hardly bore the smell of fire. To any one who is in want of a superior Safe, a perfect safeguard against fire, we cheerfully recommend your manufacture, having had a personal experience of their excellence. Yours truly,

B F POND & HITCHCOCK.

THE AMERICAN'S CHEST

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To the Citizens of the United States.—I most humbly and sincerely thank you for the numerous patronage which you have bestowed upon my Pills. I take this opportunity of stating that my shoemakers are all American, I am an American myself, and that one fact, for all the concerns America and the Americans, is more lively sympathies so much so that I originally composed both these Pills, the result of my long and intimate knowledge, experience and observation of the human stomach and liver, intending to establish my fortune in my own country, which I have now done, by taking my pills to New York. THOMAS HOLLOWAY, 38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Sts, New York.

PURIFICATION OF THE BLOOD

—AND—

LIVER AND BILLIOUS COMPLAINTS.

The extreme of the Urine and excessive torpidity of the Liver and Stomach, scarcely any one is free from the influence of these four active agents, in the production of the most of the diseases that afflict the human family, and although there are many other causes, yet the great majority of the human family are slaves to these four causes, which can be remedied by constantly keeping the blood pure, and the Liver and Stomach in a healthy action, which will show smooth, and resemble youth in a comparatively short time, where a natural spring and vigor is regained, the preservation of the human frame, and the diminution of much can be effected, and many serious diseases which can be prevented by a few boxes of these celebrated Pills, which are always found to be the most efficacious and safest family medicine in the world.

Aid to the Railroads.

The point is fully settled, that the people of Bangor are desirous of availing themselves of the advantages resulting from railroad facilities. We say that this is a settled point because the subject has frequently been before the people in various forms, and in every case the have sustained the position that Bangor could not afford to do without the benefits of railroad communication. So uniform and so emphatic has been the expression of opinion upon this that there has not seemed to be any room for doubt upon the subject, and consequently the capitalists and business men, the mechanics, farmers and others who have a little money which they could insert for the public good as well as an ultimate advantage to themselves, have subscribed for the stock of the roads. In this way, and under such state of facts large amount of money has been invested. The basis of the investment was the a rooted opinion that upon there being raised upon stock and expended upon the road eight hundred thousand dollars, the citizens of Bangor would be willing to grant the loan of the credit of the city for an equal amount taking the bonds of the company and a mortgage of all the property as security. This has all along been held out; the citizens of Bangor have so expressed themselves, and the pledge may be considered as fully, and completely made, and is so understood and upon this basis, the stock has been taken and the work has gone on.

The question now comes whether the unexpressed pledge of granting the loan of the city credit shall now be consummated. Subscribers to the stock have done their duty. The railroad company have made their arrangements for meeting the conditions upon which it was understood and agreed that the credit should be granted and now the citizens of Bangor are to determine whether, after great effort has been made, the money expended or to be expended, and a fair prospect opened for securing the railroads, they are willing to refuse the loan of the city credit lest all the expectations and all the money that has been paid by our citizens be lost in the lingering of the railroads, a loss which must occur in an attempt then through by a sale of their stock on ruinous discount, thereby making the cost nearly twice what they ought to be. Our citizens had been opposed from the outset to loan of the city credit the stock we have been taken up by our citizens. The road would not have been commenced instead of opposition they have shown a disposition in favor of the roads, and of the loan. We believe they will not now change their mind, blast all the expectations raised, frustrate the roads, or, if not defeat them, force them into such conditions, as may be in heavy loss to stockholders.

We think this point on the subject is important one, and should be fully, and considered in reference to the duty of citizens to give, as nearly as possible a unanimous vote in favor of the loans.

We published yesterday and repeat this act of the legislature authorizing the loans in order that the general public upon which the city credit is to be loaned may be fully understood by our citizens. We trust that all will examine its provisions they cannot fail to be satisfied that the loan is ample.

The Nebraska Question.

Opposition to the nefarious Nebraska scheme is gaining ground everywhere. The Missouri Democrat of St. Louis, a staunch Democratic party of that State, and a man, in opposition to the violation of the plighted faith of the nation, by the compromise and a new agitation of Benton, the leader of the party, is opposed it, every democratic paper in the northern States is, and the Democratic standard against it."

Even in Washington, opposition is gaining ground, against it, notwithstanding the desperate attempts of Douglas to measure. Gen Millson, the representative of the Norfolk district, Va., who voted against the bill, has just returned from a visit to his constituents. He says the people of his district are almost unanimously opposed to the measure.

The new Whig member elect from Tennessee, Mr Taylor, who has recently taken his seat, sides with Hon. Cullom, Etheridge, and the other gallant Whigs from the South, who oppose the bill.

Since the election in New Hampshire, Mr Mitredge, representative of the Rockingham district, has made a visit home. On his return to Washington, it is said that he stated that his democratic constituents were opposed to the measure and expected the President to veto the bill if it passed.

Growth of Manchester, N. H.

This young city, the most populous town in New Hampshire, contained last year 17,000 inhabitants—males 8,689, females 8,311. The total population in 1840 was but 3,235, and in 1847 was less than 1000. The valuation of property last year was $8,955,628 the taxes assessed $61,541,81. The debt of the city is $93,650, one half of which was caused by the destruction by fire of a costly city hall in 1843, and replacing it by a more costly one. There are more than 2000 polls. Manchester has grown up entirely through the influence of its water power. By following the example of Manchester and occupying the water power, Bangor, ten years hence, may as well have a population of 34,000 as 20,000.

☞ On Thursday afternoon last, Mr Nath'l Stanwood, who was employed in Given's ship yard, Brunswick, fell from the staging to the ground, a distance of twenty-seven feet, striking on his left shoulder, injuring his shoulder blade and the back of his chest, breaking two ribs and injuring one of his lungs. He also received other internal injury, and is in a critical condition.

☞ The first fleet of Peter the Great was built by the Dutch; the first fleet of George Washington was furnished by the French.—Though master of millions and millions of slaves, Peter did not disdain to become a common laborer in the shop of a free mechanic at Saardam to learn the art and mystery of ship building." The present Emperor, Nicholas, had a Winslow, a Massachusetts engineer to project his railways, who left that State in 1841 to superintend the first one ever built in his dominions, from St. Petersburg to Moscow, and who died in his service a few years since. He has now in his service Ross Winans, a Baltimore mechanic, to construct his locomotives and Deanna Eaton, a carriage-maker of Troy, New York, to prepare his cars. The Emperor draws largely upon the United States for his aforementioned men." One of the first naval officers under the Czar a few years since, (who is, perhaps, still living,) was a Yankee by the name of Wilkins, born in the town of Meredith, in New Hampshire. At the age of seventeen years he performed a daring exploit and saved a Russian crew from death in the hands of pirates, and thereby came to the notice of the then reigning sovereign, who rewarded and promoted him. About thirteen years ago he visited the place of his birth and renewed many early acquaintances.

Yankees may be found, too, in the Turkish naval service, where some of them have attained high distinction. The principal ship building in the Turkish navy yards are natives of this country, some of whom have grown old in that service.

The war in Turkey, now just begun, has already called to the standard some of Americans, who have arranged to use their either side—some in favor of Turkey, the others for Russia. Very many, we presume, will lend a hand on the one side and on the other, before the close of the war.

Concert in this Evening—The Brass Band honoring their Leader.

The Bangor Brass Band are to give a Special Concert to-night, accompanied and gentlemanly leader J. T. Clarke, on this evening, at the City Hall. Our military and musical friends should remember and duly honor the Concert and make it as substantial as the full, to a most deserving man, for whom tributes are rarely solicited, and for whom is worthy of many and frequent benefits. Mr Clarke has engaged most heartily in this complimentary notice of a musical brother, and will take a prominent part in the Concert. There will be some fine attractions at the Concert, and we trust a general rush will be made, and the hall crowded and Mr Clarke made to realize a substantial token of regard from our citizens.

☞ Levi R. Wing, Esq., formerly one of the publishers of the Belfast Journal, has issued a prospectus for publishing a new democratic paper in that city, expressly to support the present Democratic Administration. If the old record and broken party requires a new paper in Belfast, it would have been, we suppose, in better taste not to have alluded to the fact that the prospect we publisher had formerly been associated with the Republican Journal, which, certainly, is all but its politics, in first rate, and in that is Locofoco squared.

☞ We yesterday received a bunch of hard-some asparagus, of the large length of six inches, and well grown, from Patrick Ryder, the skillful cultivator in the garden of Albert Nason, Esq. This is what we call being in good season with vegetable diet. We trust that the farmers of the fine thoroughly gardeners in the city in bringing forward these vegetable productions will, encourage all our citizens to do more in this line than for lately.

☞ Gen Simon Nowell, who has a great fancy for raising the patent breeds of hens, has been laid under great obligations to the hen family by one of his hens, a Shanghai second with the Chit gang, laying an egg which weighed three and half ounces, down weight. Yesterday afternoon as the schooner Indian, of Rockland, Captain Rhodes, was coming up the river and near Hampden, she encountered the running ice, and in endeavoring to steer between two large portions of ice she was run into so suddenly and rapidly, that the captain succeeded in reaching her where she has subsided at high water. She was loaded with coal and lime for True & Hayward of this city, with her insurance of $6600 at the Merchants' Mutual Insurance Company in this city. The Medora will probably be raised by lightering and towed in this city to-morrow.—Mercury, 26th.

Lowered a boat and took off the officers, them being a heavy sea on at the time, but not squally weather. The schooner was totally dismasted on the 16th, when three days out, hove out rudder, lost guards one and pintals. She was built in this city, was about three months old. The vessel was insured for $21,000 and cargo for $14,000. She was about 250 tons burthen, and a most splendid vessel.

☞ Great letters have just been received at the bible house from Geneva, signed by Dr Malle de Aubigne, De Haldan, Coquerel, Monchin and others, requesting the American Bible Society to furnish means for publishing immediately, 15,000 or 15,000 copies of the French New Testament in Italy, which can not be circulated, and the people are eager to possess it. "Will the Christians of America, (say they) through your Society, contribute two or three thousand dollars towards the expense of the first edition?"

Murder and Arson in Aroostook.

On Friday, James Mathews, a man of 50 years, and a woman calling herself Mary Ann White, were committed to the jail in Houlton, the former for the murder of a man named Samuel James, the latter for setting fire in the day time to the dwelling house of Benjamin Howes of Umcolus, on the west Aroostook road, occupied as a tavern. From the officer who committed them our correspondent learns the following particulars:—

Mathews is a bachelor, and lives in a sort of camp on the west Aroostook road, some five or six miles south of Howes' tavern. Mary Ann had been living with him for several months. On Sunday last Mathews left his place and went to the Ox Bow. The deceased that day told Mathews' camp, and staid with Mary Ann over night. Soon after he left Mary Ann went out on the road, met Mathews, and told him that James had been there, had treated her very badly, and had turned her out of doors. This story supposed a fabrication, induced Mathews, who called for a gun, which he had left a few days before with a neighbor on the road, put a fresh cap on it and started forth.—Presently he met James, and at once shot him through the breast. He lived three or four hours. Mary Ann says she told Mathews not to shoot James, but was so much afraid he would do so that when she saw they were going to meet, she left the road and ran into the woods. She says she heard Mathews ask James what he turned that girl out of the house for, and at nearly the same time heard the report of the gun and James' scream.

Two men who happened to be passing at the time, apprehended Mathews and Mary Ann and took them to Howes' tavern.

While preparations were making for the examination of Mathews, the girl White stole up into the attic with some matches, set fire to the house, and came down. When the fire was discovered, it had progressed so far that it was with much difficulty that it could be extinguished, though there were some fifteen able men to the house. White says she set the fire as a means of escape. She was suspected to have participated in the murder, and was in custody merely as a witness.

Mathews admits that he shot James, but says he did not intend to.

James was about 21 years of age, and is supposed to have come from Portland or that vicinity.—He said he had a brother in that city. He was a laborer in the lumber woods, and, it is said, had by him some three or four hundred dollars of his earnings.

Mathews is said to have resided formerly at Anson. They have both resided in Aroostook county for several years.—Mercury.

ESAU BURNER.—We are glad to learn that the writings of this eminent philanthropist are to be published by Phillips, Sampson & Co., in a handsome duodecimo. As an advocate of peace and human brotherhood, his name is known throughout the civilized world; but his articles upon temperance and its cognate themes are quite as striking as any that have come from his pen. The volume will contain a fine steel portrait of the author, and his biography, written by Mary Howitt. It will be issued in the course of the month.—Massachusetts Life Boat.

OUR PRESS OF WAR.—When the French troops embarked at Toulon for Constantinople, an old man who witnessed their departure exclaimed, in a mournful voice: "There goes my only child, to fight for a cause he does not understand, and against men with whom he never had a difference." To how many wars which history records, will the remark of this aged man apply?

Sam Patt and Longevity.

There is now living in the town of Corinth, in this county, a woman who has attained the remarkable age of 112 years. She is a pauper and an inveterate snuff-taker, using on an average three boxes full per day with a prospect of continuing to do so for a time yet before her candle of life is snuffed out.—Bangor Mercury.

QUAKER.—Rev. John Cotton of Boston, about 215 years ago, in speaking of the expenses of living in those times, remarked that there was nothing cheap in New England, but "Milk and Ministers."

THE JEWS.—The New York Times does nothing more than justice to the Jews in a recent article from which we quote:—

There are said to be some 17,000 of the Jewish faith in the United States. The churches number 31. Probably 6,000 are to be found in the city of New York. We seldom find one in our prisons or penitentiaries. They are not frequently found in our hospitals, and never in our poor houses. At Ward's Island, where so many hundreds of the poor drifting across from the shores of the Old World are continually gathering, we find all classes of Christians—Quakers perhaps excepted—and all shades of infidels represented, but never a Jew. When the Jewish emigrant arrives he does not compel himself to rough poverty has chased him from his old home, and meet him on the wharf, to the commissioners of Emigration, for the receipt of the assistance to which his commutation fee entitles him, but he queries, first, Where is there a Jew? His brother found, leads him to the man who, by the appointment of the synagogue, or otherwise, assumes the specific task of caring for such. Thirteen hundred tons of coal, we are told have been given to the poor by one of our Societies of Israelites in New York during the present winter. The early and unfailing attention, of those who are able, to the wants of the poor, must greatly tend to prevent the commission of crime, since crime stalks in, nowhere so surely, as when hunger goes naked once open the door, and paint perpetually beckons on.

XXXIIId CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 24.

SENATE.

The morning hour of the Senate was principally taken up in the reception of memorials against the Nebraska bill, in favor of cheap postage, and religious toleration, and other matters.

The Senate then took up the bill appropriating $100,000, and gold medals, to the rescuers of the San Francisco sufferers. A long debate ensued. An amendment was offered, cutting down the money award to $50,000, which was adopted, and the bill as amended passed.

The Indian appropriation bill was taken up and several amendments adopted. One of them appropriating $80,000 for negotiations with the Indians in Washington Territory.

HOUSE.

Mr Gray made an unsuccessful attempt in the House to-day, to get up his resolution of inquiry touching certain resolutions in the post office department debarring members of Congress from examining the records of that department.

A resolution of Mr Fuller was adopted, requesting the President to communicate to the House the instructions referred to in President Monroe's annual message of December, 1823, on the subject of issuing commissions to private armed vessels, &c.

Mr N. P. Banks of Massachusetts, introduced a bill having for its objects the refunding to that State the balance due her for disbursements during the last war.

The House went into committee on the Senate's amendment to the deficiency bill.

Mr Phillips spoke of the strong necessity of passing the Nebraska bill and proceeded to address the House on the merits of the question.

Mr Benton obtained the floor, but gave way with the understanding that he will speak tomorrow on the Nebraska bill.

Mr Harris of Mississippi then addressed the House on the Nebraska bill, defending the Missouri act of 1820 as a compromise that should be inviolable, and expressing his dislike to the Nebraska bill in its present shape. Before he concluded his speech the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

☞ Power of Musicians.—Old John Adams understood well the duties of the pulpit. In a letter addressed to his wife, dated Philadelphia July, 7, 1774, he inquires: "Does Mr. Wilbind preach against oppression and the cardinal vices of the times? Tell him the clergy here from every denomination, not excepting the Episcopalians, thunder and lighten every Sabbath." The clergy of the Revolution gave effectual aid and comfort to the cause of liberty. They assailed wickedness in high places as well as in low, and dealt with public sins with private sins. Oppression on the part of rulers they held to be a flagrant crime, demanding the steadiest rebuke of the pulpit.—Commonwealth.

SAN FRANCISCO.—FROM THE "GOLDEN HORN KIP.—The following extract from a letter from Bishop Kip, appears in the Albany Journal:—

"You speak of the refined society and marble palaces of San Francisco. It is literally true. There are more splendid buildings here than in Albany. One, built of brown cut stone, for offices, &c., is as large, an fully equal in exterior, to Metropolitan Hotel in New York. As to the society, there is more active intellect in it than any society I have ever seen. There are more men of distinguished talents gathered from all parts of the Union—ex-members of Congress, like Governor Foote, Stanley of N. Carolina, Duer of New York, Jones of Tennessee, &c. You may think it a strong declaration, but it is literally true, that I never preached with so much difficulty before a congregation as those in this city. I see before me on Sundays, an array of talent and intellect that I never did before in any church. I can select men here from any part of my congregation whose names have been celebrated for years in the politics of the country from some of the old States."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows:

Section 1.—The city of Bangor is hereby authorized to loan its credit to the Penobscot and Kennebec Railroad Company, in aid of the construction of their railroad, not exceeding, however, the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, upon compliance with the following terms and conditions.

SECTION 2. If this act shall be accepted in the manner provided, said said company shall, within three years from its approval, produce evidence satisfactory to the mayor and aldermen of said city for the time being, that the sum of $500,000 has been collected from the subscriptions to the stock of said company, and paid in and actually expended in the construction of their road and the purchase of the right of way, then such fact shall be certified by the mayor and aldermen to the city treasurer, and he shall forthwith issue to the directors of said company, for the purpose of completing said road, the scrip of said city, payable to the bearer thereof at the expiration of twenty years from the date thereof, in the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, with coupons for interest attached, payable semi-annually. Provided, however, that the whole amount of said scrip shall not exceed the sum of $500,000. And provided further, that said sum of $500,000 may be subscribed and issued in the scrip thereof for such sums as the parties may deem expedient.

Section 3.—Concurrent with the delivery of said scrip as aforesaid, the president and directors of said company, in their official capacity, shall execute and deliver to said city treasurer, the bond of said company in the penal sum of ten hundred thousand dollars, payable to said city, conditioned that said company will duly pay the interest on said scrip and the principal thereof, and in all respects hold and save the city harmless on account of the issue of the same. And shall also execute and deliver to said treasurer the series of said coupons, payable to the holders thereof at the same time and for the same amount as the scrip then issued by said treasurer to said company with the 11 coupons attached. Which scrip shall be held by said city as collateral security for the fulfillment of the conditions of said bond, and in default of any one of said conditions, said city may, at any time to the sell said scrip or any portion thereof, at public auction or auctions, in the cities of Bangor, Boston or New York, after sixty days notice in writing to the president, or one of the directors, or three of the stockholders of said company, naming the place, time and place of sale, and the net proceeds thereof shall be endorsed on said bond.

SECTION 4. The president and directors of said company are hereby authorized, and it shall be their duty in their official capacity, upon the receipt of said scrip, from said city and the delivery of their bond to said city, to execute and deliver to the same, to execute and deliver to said city a mortgage of said railroad, and of all the property of said company, real and personal, which they now have or may subsequently acquire, together with their franchise without prior incumbrance, which mortgage shall be signed by the said president and directors in their official capacity, and shall be executed according to the law of this state, and shall be in due and legal form, and shall contain an express and such express terms to secure to said city the fulfillment of the conditions in said bond contained, and said mortgage, so executed, and delivered and duly recorded in the registry of deeds for the county of Penobscot, shall, to all intents and purposes be, and the same is hereby declared to be, a full and complete transfer to said railroad, of all the property of said company, real and personal, then or subsequently to be acquired, and of said franchise subject only to the condit

The return of such ward meetings shall be made to the clerk of said city, and by them recorded and decided, and said city clerk shall make a record thereof, but this act shall take no effect from and after its approval by the governor, unless to empower the railroad company and the inhabitants of the city to act upon the question of accepting the same. In which the Root and Herb Bitters have not settled the same.

And so safe in their action, they cannot do harm
While they strengthen the system and set the heart charm.
Are you, Temperance folks—when this med'cine is used
No drunk alcoholics by it offended,
Not proof the cud mother feel an item alarm,
To the tenderest infant it cannot do harm.
